TECHWORLD SELECTS MIMOSA SYSTEMS AS A FINALIST IN THEIR ANNUAL PRODUCT OF THE YEAR AWARDS

*Email and Document Archiving Leader Recognized for Technology Innovation
From Prominent List of Nominees*

Santa Clara, Calif. – May 23, 2007 — Mimosa Systems™, a leading provider of Live Content Archiving solutions, today announced that Techworld has named its NearPoint™ for Microsoft® Exchange Server live content archiving solution as a finalist for the Backup Product of the Year Award for 2007. With over 200 entries each year, the industry award is considered a benchmark for excellence throughout the computer industry.

Recognition by Techworld is the latest in a growing list of awards for Mimosa, which recently received a Top 10 Product by Network World, TechTarget's SearchExchange Product of the Year, and was named one of five "Storage Standouts" and a Top 75 Emerging Vendor by CRN magazine.

Mimosa NearPoint addresses critical customer requirements for email information archiving, eDiscovery, regulatory compliance, data protection, disaster recovery and storage optimization. The solution enables litigation readiness, business continuity and end-user search while reducing overall operational costs.

"The Techworld awards serve as a barometer for products that have made a significant impact in the computer industry over the last year," said Criss Marshall, senior director of corporate marketing, Mimosa Systems. "Being nominated for a Product of the Year Award serves as further validation of the value we provide our customers and the technology leadership of the Mimosa solution."

"Techworld recognizes individuals and technologies that are delivering on the highest standards of achievement in the computer industry," said Max Cooter, editor Techworld. "Mimosa Systems received high marks across all of our evaluation criteria including strategy, creativity, innovation and effectiveness."
