FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Newman Group Partners with Mimosa Systems to Expand Its Leading Email Delivery, Security and Compliance Product Portfolio to Deliver Industry's Most Advanced Email Archiving Solutions

Dexter, MI and Santa Clara Calif. – August 28, 2007 – The Messaging Solutions Division (www.nofailemail.net) of The Newman Group, specializing in email delivery, security, and compliance solutions and Mimosa Systems™, the leader in Live Content Archiving solutions, today announced that The Newman Group has become an authorized reseller in the Mimosa Partner Advantage Program. As an authorized Mimosa reseller, The Newman Group will deliver next-generation email archiving with Mimosa™ NearPoint™ for Microsoft® Exchange Server to its clients.

Newman's messaging team will extend the offering to its expanding customer base, which includes over 100 major colleges and universities, private industry leaders, and internet service providers. Newman is offering a turnkey Mimosa solution including consulting, system configuration, installation, and support.

"The deep expertise in email delivery, security, and compliance of The Newman Group makes them a perfect partner for delivering Mimosa NearPoint with unified archiving, eDiscovery, recovery, and storage management on a single platform," said Christophe Culine, senior vice president of worldwide sales at Mimosa Systems. "Organizations are demanding solutions to manage the explosion of user driven information and the ever-increasing requirements of legal discovery and compliance. By adding NearPoint to their product portfolio, the Newman Group will be able to meet these growing demands with the industry's most advanced email archiving solutions."

"Our goal since we entered the email delivery and security market has been to provide a comprehensive set of solutions and services that allow our customers to create the best possible messaging environment," said Anthony Comazzi, vice president, messaging solutions division for The Newman Group. "Adding Mimosa to our portfolio further strengthens our lineup of industry leading solutions."
